

St. Joseph's Vows Taken by 10 Women

Ten Elmira and vicinity young women pronounced vows in the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph in ceremonies at Rochester this week.

Five were received as novices into the order and five recited final vows as members of the religious community.

Received as novices were:

Miss Mary T. Sayles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo C. Sayles of 332 Broadway. She will be known as Sister Margaret de Sales.

Miss Frances Dowling, daughter of Peter F. Dowling of 408 Locust St. She will be known as Sister Peter Mary.

Miss Nancy Kent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Kent of 109 Sullivan St. She will be known as Sister Joseph Clare.

Miss Dolores Hanly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Hanly of 120 W. Third St., Corning. She will be known as Sister Mary Hilary.

Miss Mary Jean Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest P. Smith of Bath. She will be known as Sister Saint Peter.

Profession of perpetual vows were made by the following who have been novices in the community for five years:

Sister Margaret Helene Shannon, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shannon of Elmira.

Sister M. Ursuline Spohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Spohn of 221 Bloomer Ave.

Sister Daniel Louise Collins, daughter of Mrs. Daniel P. Collins of 719 E. Washington Ave. and the late Daniel P. Collins.

Sister Michael Ann Hanly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Hanly of 120 W. Third St., Corning.

Sister Robert Mary Kosty, daughter of Mrs. Mary Kosty of Corning.

The Most Rev. James E. Kearney, Bishop of Rochester, presided at the ceremonies. In all, 31 young women were received as novices and 17 nuns made final vows.
