

ti-
y
/-
e

/-
s, d
n-
i-
t-
g o
e
d
n
of a

n
st

in
r,

in
ne

s-
of
d-ek
D.

ad
n-
le
n-
s,
s,
is
ed
in
sl-
of

KOSTY MULL

agement from Northeastern University.

An equity company of Corning Inc., and Siemens Communication Systems Inc., Siecor is a manufacturer of fiber optic cables and associated products for telecommunications trunk, feeder and premises applications.

GREGORY B. KOSTY has been named vice president, general manager of Siecor Corp.'s Cable Division, according to President Joseph D. Hicks.

Kosty joined Siecor in 1985 as manager of planning and later was named manager of sales and marketing planning.

Kosty became director of marketing in 1987 and held that position until his appointment as vice president.

Prior to joining Siecor, Kosty was associated with Corning Inc. for more than 20 years where he served in a number of planning positions in research and development, marketing, and manufacturing.

Kosty earned his undergraduate degree from Elmira College in Elmira, N.Y., and his master's degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He lives with his family in Hickory.

CECELIA L. MULL with World